

Pierre Bourgin is the general manager of Navya's subsidiary in its Saline location. Pierre holds a bachelor and master's in engineering from Centrale-Supelec, Paris and a Bachelor and master's in business management from ESCP Europe.

He started his career as a management consultant in Paris before immigrating to Austin, TX. He then started working as an engineering and business manager at Alten in Detroit, MI to lead engineering teams in multiple areas, automotive and others. Pierre was hired by Navya in 2017 to be part of the team and help build their subsidiary in the US.